VOTING CONTENTS

To : Valued Investors

Dragon Capital Vietnam Investment Fund Management Joint Stock Company (DCVFM) submits to the Annual General Meeting of Investors of financial year 2022 of DC Blue Chip Fund (DCBC) the voting contents for approval as follows:

I. Fund's Performance in 2022

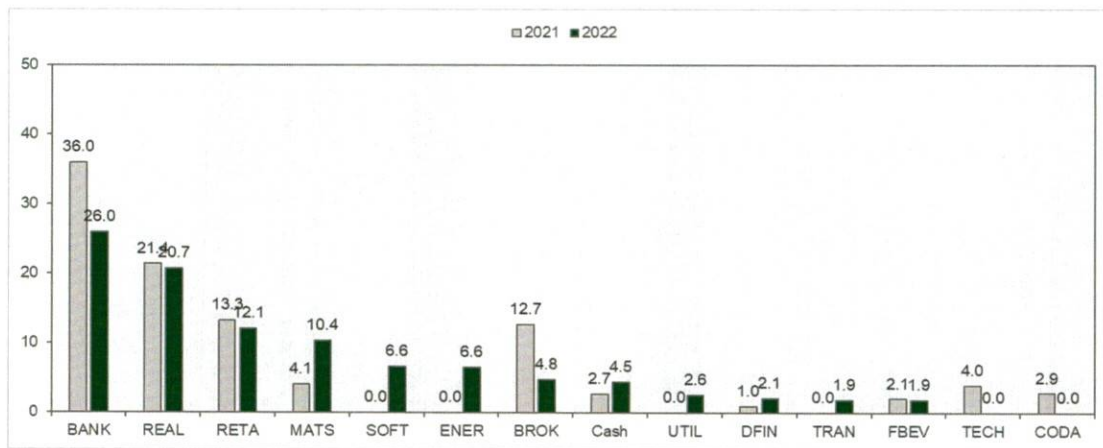

As of 12/31/2022, DCBC Fund fell 32.3% compared to end of last year, the VN-Index also dropped 32.8% over the same period. Sectors that strongly impacted the portfolio result were Financial Services (-54.9%), Materials (-49%) and Real Estate (-45.8%). Stocks that reduced the performance of the Fund including DGC (-47.7%), DPM (-46.2%), KDH (-36.5%) and VCI (-35.9%). On the other side, typical stocks that still maintained growth were PNJ (+27.9%), VHC (+5.9%), VCB (+4.6%), and FPT (+4.6%). 2022 was a challenging year for the Vietnamese stock market in general and DCBC Fund in particular. From the first few months of the year, the market has been negatively affected by the Russia-Ukraine war which disrupted the global supply chain, and continued to escalate commodity prices, causing central banks around the world to accelerate interest rate hikes, directly affecting global financial assets. Domestically, Vietnam has continuously suffered from many events related to real estate, bond and capital markets due to many violations related to public land bidding to manipulating the equity and bond market. This has caused investors sentiment which was already fragile after many negative events, to cut losses and sell mortgages at all costs, making the stock market fall sharply.

With too much instable global and domestic macro conditions in a short time, DCBC Fund was forced to take drastic actions to protect the portfolio against unforeseen risks. The Fund had to sharply cut its investment proportion in directly affected industries such as Real Estate, Banking, Securities and Materials. At some point, the Fund had to raise cash to a very high level in order to minimize the impact of mortgages on the market. Besides, the Fund also has the flexibility to reinvest in more stable, less cyclical industries such as Food, Beverage & Tobacco, Consumer Durable & Apparel and Retail to rebalance the overall risk of the portfolio.

However, due to the perception that all these events only have a major impact in the short term and do not change the macroeconomic stability factors and the foundation of businesses in the long term, DCBC has started to disburse a large amount of money starting from the end of 2022. By the end of 2022, DCBC only had about 3.8% NAV as cash, completing the portfolio restructuring amid new market conditions.

Due to timely re-evaluation of events and their negative impacts on the portfolio, DCBC Fund has taken decisive and appropriate action plans to protect the portfolio from further decline if the Fund continued maintaining the weighting compared to the beginning of the year. Although the market has gradually stabilized since the end of 2022, factors causing downside risks and strong volatility in the near future are still present. DCBC will continue to closely monitor these indicators and will not rule out taking similar actions in the near future in order to maximize the interests of investors of the Fund.

II. Fund's Audited Financial Statement 2022

Please see the content of Fund's Audited Financial Statement in 2022 on DCVFM's website at www.dragoncapital.com.vn.

III. 2022 Dividend distribution

DCBC Fund proposes not to pay dividend in 2022 and reinvest to increase net asset value of the Fund.

IV. Fund's operation plan in 2023

In 2023, Vietnam's economy is forecasted to continue to face many difficulties and challenges when major economies in the world such as the US and the European Union (EU) are expected to enter a period of decelerating growth in the next 2-3 years due to the impact of geopolitical issues.

In addition, the tightening monetary policy in these economies also significantly affects Vietnam's macro stability goal in the coming time. One of the objective reasons why Vietnam's deposit and lending interest rates have increased continuously in recent years is because the US Federal Reserve (Fed) has raised interest rates continuously from 0% to 4.75% at present. The sharp increase in domestic deposit interest rates at the end of last year will certainly reflect on the economy this year, when lending rates have approached 15-16%/year in many banks. With interest rates maintained at such a high level, we believe that economic activities in many industries with high levels of debt and leverage such as Construction, Real Estate and SMEs will certainly face many challenges in maintaining profit margins. In addition, the deceleration of the world economy also makes it more difficult for exporters to access new orders. The labor market will therefore have a stricter screening and narrower in size than in 2022.

However, 2023 is forecasted to be a year with many bright spots in public investment when the Government has started many key projects in just the first 2 months of the year. Large projects such as Long Thanh airport, North-South expressway... if implemented and disbursed according to the set schedule, the public sector economy will contribute significantly to this year's GDP growth and offset the temporary difficulties faced by private sector enterprises.

In 2023, DCBC Fund is expected to maintain a reasonable and flexible cash ratio, as the market will have a certain differentiation between industries and stocks. Highly cyclical industries such as Real Estate, Construction are expected to have a stronger elimination in 2023, and industries such as Banking and Retail are forecasted to continue to have stable profit growth and will lead the general market in the near future. In addition, stocks of sectors that are suitable for this year's investment trends such as Infrastructure and Materials are also considered selectively in our investment portfolio if all basic factors, corporate governance and valuation of each enterprise are met.
